Tatyana Busch, ARNP, is a dedicated Family Nurse Practitioner known for her compassionate, patient-centered approach. Patients consistently note her thorough listening and unwavering commitment to addressing their unique health concerns. Raised in New Jersey, Tatyana's early healthcare experience, starting as a supervisor in a nursing home, inspired her passion for providing quality care. She views every patient as an individual with a unique story, making it a point to truly hear their needs and offer personalized solutions. This deep connection with patients is a hallmark of her practice.

Tatyana holds a Master's in Nursing as a Family Nurse Practitioner and has advanced certifications in BLS, ACLS, and stroke care. She completed the Institute for Functional Medicine's Applying Functional Medicine in Clinical Practice (AFMCP) and is currently working toward full certification through the Institute for Functional Medicine (IFM). Tatyana's approach combines conventional and functional medicine to uncover root causes and provide effective, long-term solutions for her patients. Her goal is to partner with patients, educating them about their health while creating customized care plans that promote wellness and prevent future issues.

Outside of her professional life, Tatyana is a proud mother of three children, which gives her a deep understanding of family dynamics and health priorities. She values her strong family background, which has influenced her approach to healthcare. Tatyana feels grateful to work at Absolute Health, where her expertise and compassionate care make a meaningful impact on the community. Her ability to connect with her patients on a personal level allows them to feel comfortable and supported in their health journey, making her an essential part of the team.
